DEFENCE SHAM

says the Overseas News Agency "quoting 'The Pioneer Mail,' of Allahabad, and 'The Times,' of India, say they report that a Peninsular Secretly Aided Teuand Oriental Line steamer, the Kashgar, sighted a submarine in the Mediterranean and opened fire on it, although the hashgar had 150 passengers on board, among whom were a large number of women. The reports add that the second projec tile fired by the Kashgar apparently hit the submarine, which disappeared TO COVER MOVES and probably sank.

Likewise, these British papers re ort an encounter between the steamer City of Marseilles and a submarine in the Mediterranean, the steamer firing eight shots, and that passengers travelling on board her reported that the submarine probably was hit."
